SG MESSAGE FOR IMUN 2019

Greetings Everyone,

It is my distinct honour and duty to cordially invite you to the second session of the International Model United Nations 2019, which will be held at the British University Vietnam (BUV) Hanoi, Vietnam from Thursday 21st to Saturday 23rd February 2019.

IMUN 2018 witnessed the participation of over 250 delegates from more than 35 countries. Following the success of IMUN 2018 as well as years of experience in hosting International Model United Nations in different countries, we are excited to host IMUN Hanoi 2019 in Hanoi, Vietnam. In collaboration with the British University of Vietnam (BUV), the only international university in Vietnam, we will bring the conference to life through six dynamic committees, an exceptional array of speakers and the beloved tradition of vibrant social events such as Gala Dinner and Cultural Night.

Since its inception, IMUN has strived to create a community of ambitious and talented delegates from all corners of the globe who feel passionately about our future and recognize their power to mold it. IMUN Hanoi is driven by an educational mission that intends to shed light on the importance of collaboration, the art of diplomacy and the value of key skills such as research, public speaking, debate and negotiation. Above all, we hope that the lessons learned from IMUN Hanoi will inspire and empower delegates to form a voice beyond the committee room. We hope this experience will challenge students to think critically about policy and to drive change in their own communities.

The theme of this IMUN's conference is "Where Your Voice Matters!", and we are committed to delivering a truly meaningful and inspiring experience for the second time in Hanoi, Vietnam next year. We look forward to welcoming you in February 2019!

Sincerely,

Fawad Ali Langah
Secretary-General

International Model United Nations 2019

ABOUT IMUN

International Model United Nations (IMUN) brings youth together from around the world to learn and share ideas from a diverse set of experiences and backgrounds where the Executive board, International Press and International Delegates consolidate to learn about diplomacy, international relations, and the United Nations.

At IMUN, delegates gain insight into the United Nations and the dynamics of international relations by assuming the roles of UN representatives and members of other international bodies and national cabinets.

International MUN is an exciting opportunity to debate issues that confront world leaders, to draft resolutions in response to the global issues and work with others who are equally motivated and passionate about the topics of debate. The longevity and dynamic that only a conference of our size can achieve, makes IMUN one of the preeminent simulation of UN in the world.

True to the spirit of the United Nations, IMUN strives to foster a constructive forum for open dialogue on complex global issues, including international peace and security and economic and social progress. IMUN stresses the in-depth examination and resolution of pressing issues by emphasizing the process over results. However, with great powers comes great responsibilities. There are limitations to negotiations especially when international diplomacies and great interests are involved. We hope through IMUN, students learn the importance of balancing national interests with the needs of the international community.

OBJECTIVE OF IMUN

Develop deeper knowledge on current global issues and improve critical thinking.

Strengthen their diplomacy skills and develop ideas to solve current international problems.

Improve researching, public speaking, debating, and writing skills, in addition to critical thinking, teamwork, and leadership abilities.

Differentiate between the parliament and the UN, while distinguishing power struggle from diplomacy.

Improve international exposure by gaining experiences from delegates across the world.

COUNCIL OVERVIEW

The World Health Organization (WHO) is a specialized agency of the United Nations that concerned with international public health. It was established on 7 April, 1948, headquartered in Geneva, Switzerland. The WHO is a member of the United Nations Development Group. The International Court of Justice, also called World Court, meets in The Hague, The Netherlands. The International Court of Justice (ICJ) is the principal judicial organ of the UN. The Court has two functions: To settle, in accordance with international law, legal disputes submitted by States, and to give advisory opinions on legal questions referred to by authorized UN organs and specialized agencies.

COUNCIL OVERVIEW

SECURITY COUNCIL

The United Nations Security Council (UNSC) is one of the six principal organs of the United Nations, charged with the maintenance of international peace and security as accepting new members to the United Nations and approving any changes to its United Nations Charter. Its powers include the establishment of peacekeeping operations, the establishment of international sanctions, and the authorization of military action through Security Council resolutions. Formed in 1946, it is the only UN body with the authority to issue binding resolutions to member states.

The United Nations Entity for Gender Equality and the Empowerment of Women, or better known as UN Women, was founded on July 2010. It is the cluster of the United Nations that upholds women empowerment and gender equality. This UN's entity is the global champion in working women's right attainable. It resolves some issues like physical violence, stereotyping, and gender discrimination in the society. One of its goal is to position gender equality as significant to the Sustainable Development Goals, and aims for a more inclusive world.

COUNCIL OVERVIEW

UNESCO or United Nations Educational, Scientific and Cultural Organization, specialized agency of the United Nations (UN) that was chartered in a constitution was signed in November 16, 1945. The constitution, which entered into force in 1946, has the main tenacity to promote international collaboration in the fields of Education, Science, and Culture. The organization's headquarters are in Paris, France. UNESCO has 195 member states and ten associate members. Most of its field offices are "cluster" offices covering three or more countries; national and regional offices also exist. UNESCO's activities have been primarily facilitative, intended at assisting, supporting, and supplementing the national efforts of member states to eradicate illiteracy and to expand the access of free education.
